

ABOUT SNP

Founded in 1992, SNP is a dynamic company that evolves quickly to meet our customer's needs. Our mission is to make our customer's message as clear and memorable as possible, a feat we accomplish through content support, communications coaching, and creative development. We recognize that no two customers are the same and our approach can't be either. This means that our employees must be as adaptable and creative as our methods, and must thrive in our fast-paced, collaborative work environment. Join us in searching the world for good people and helping to make their truth persuasive.

Global Faculty members are experienced professionals who bring years of knowledge to their delivery of SNP's practical, skill-based methodology. As a Global Faculty member you would coach leaders of Fortune 500 companies on SNP's management, leadership and communication skills in both 1:1 and group settings. This is a contract-based position and work would be assigned on a project basis.

You're responsible for:

- Providing management and leadership coaching to individuals
- Tailoring coaching approach to meet company cultures and individual personalities, as well as staying true to SNP's philosophies
- Teaching and facilitating group sessions on SNP skills
- Maintaining professionalism, credibility, and flexibility in fast-paced corporate environments
- Building and maintaining customer relationships

We'd like you to have:

- Bachelor's Degree
- 8+ years work experience
- 2+ years coaching and/or training experience, including experience working with various group sizes as well as 1:1
- Stellar communication skills and executive presence
- Willingness to travel

While being:

- Extremely outgoing and engaging – you make people want to listen to you
- Highly flexible, self-directed, and adaptable to rapidly changing environments

We are not currently hiring for this position but we will review resumes as the need arises. If you think your skills and experience match what we're looking for, please submit your resume and a cover letter to careers@snpnet.com
